Opening narration:

Witness: a typical night in the inconsequential life of Officer David Bennett. After twenty years of walking the beat, the beat has started to walk him. But around the next corner Officer Bennett will be given an offer to wield the power he's always wanted. An offer that will take him to The Twilight Zone.

Closing narration:

Think twice before getting what you wish for. At least check the return policy. Officer David Bennett didn't and now he's serving a life sentence: walking the beat in The Twilight Zone.
