

“The Deal”

by Matt May, copyright 2017

Opening narration:

Inside this office you will be introduced to Mister Rick Pierce. Mr. Pierce was an ordinary, unknown working man until one event changed his life around, he got lucky. Rick won a lottery and was freed from the stress and working grind of having to provide for a loyal family, but this hasn't made him very grateful. For what eludes him now is something he simply isn't rich enough to buy anymore...fame.

Closing narration:

This man won a lottery and tried to make a name for himself as an entrepreneur, like Cuban or Buffet. He failed, but then a devil made him a famous tycoon. The devil Taygan also made him famous for another reason, belittling and unfair as it might be. And Mr. Rick Pierce learned that, even if ones soul is not in the bargain, one should never make a deal with a devil...in the Twilight Zone.